

Recruiting, Training, Equipping & Retaining Volunteers

Mary Steele

I. Recruiting

Our recruiting strategy must be _____.

All recruiting efforts must begin with _____.

Volunteers are people to be _____, not _____ to be _____.

The Truth78 Vision is that children and their parents would:

- Come to genuinely _____ the truth of God through His character, deeds, work, and promised
- _____ and revere God in a way befitting His incomparable greatness and worth
- _____ God with undivided love and devotion
- _____ as faithful disciples of God while being progressively sanctified and bearing fruit to His glory.
- Do all for the _____ while proclaiming His excellent worth.

Utilize _____ to communicate the wondrous deeds that God is doing through the ministry.

Engage with your _____ and other _____ leaders.

Look for ways to get _____ involved in what is happening in the classroom.

Following the example of Jesus, look for _____ ways to ask people to serve.

II. Training & Equipping

Set the bar high for training and make it _____.

Utilize the Truth78 _____ training modules with your volunteers

Have examples of classroom _____ readily available.

Make the training time _____ and engaging.

Examples:

Be intentionally _____ in the lives of your volunteers to better understand where they need additional equipping.

Examples:

You should prioritize and model regular times of _____ with your volunteer team.

III. Retention & Growth

You should model the humility of _____ to your volunteers, as you seek to walk in a manner worthy of your calling.

As their leader, your volunteer team should know that you are ready and willing to _____ them.

Observe your volunteers in action, and invest in them by providing them with timely _____ and _____.

In the spirit of Romans 13:7, we show appreciation to volunteers as a way of showing _____ to whom it is due.
